PCE 2010 ROME– EXTENDED DEADLINE FOR REGISTRATION AND SUBMISSION OF PAPERS

Dear Colleague

The organizing committee of PCE 2010, in consultation with the board of the World Association for Person-Centered and Experiential Psychotherapy and Counseling, has extended the deadline for early bird registrations and submission of papers until the 28th February. That means that you can still register at the reduced rate of €540, or €480 for WAPCEPC members.

The conference theme, 'Empowerment: the politics of the helping relationship' seems particularly relevant:

- what is the impact of the current economic and political climate on the practice and development of the PCE?
- how do we express the radical philosophy of the PCE in a way that is relevant to the society of today?
- how do we empower our clients?
- how do we empower ourselves?

We are delighted to have keynote speakers from four different continents: Alberto Zucconi from Italy, Jeanne Watson from Canada, Akira Ikemi from Japan and Godfrey Barrett-Lennard from Australia. Their contributions address the conference theme from various perspectives: political, research, relationship. There will be an important symposium on the work of the WAPCEPC Research Task Force, and we look forward to the usual rich variety of presentations, workshops, and encounter that are so characteristic for the PCE conferences. There is still space for papers and we look forward to receive your proposal by the end of February

The conference is attracting lively interest in Italy and our Italian colleagues are looking forward to this opportunity to welcome many representatives of the wider PCE community. We hope that, as always, the conference will offer colleagues from many countries and continents the opportunity to meet, to exchange ideas, to stimulate debate and to come together in the development of the PCE as an approach that continues to have relevance in the world of today.

We invite you to join us in Rome. Register now! For more information about submission of papers and registration visit www.pce2010.com

Benvenuti a Roma! See you in Rome!
